

what on earth was that jamie said startled again there was a banging on the door it wasnt a knock more like a bang the door which was old but strong was shaking the banging was getting louder and louder lets run he said hastily just as they were getting up crash the door caved in they grabbed all of the things they could the gold the radio and the phone and ran towards the back door jamies heart was beating like a train

"What on earth was that?" Jamie said startled.
 Again, there was a banging on the door. It wasn't a knock, more like a bang. The door, which was old but strong, was shaking. The banging was getting louder and louder. "Let's run!" he said hastily. Just as they were getting up...crash! The door caved in. They grabbed all of the things they could: the gold, the radio and the phone, and ran towards the back door. Jamie's heart was beating like a train.
